The Maha Kumbh Mela is celebrated at the triveni Sangam (confluence of three rivers, viz. Ganges, Yamuna and Saraswati) in Prayagraj once in every twelve years commemorating the full revolution of Jupiter. It is recognised as the world's largest religious event, attracting an estimated 40 crore visitors to Prayagraj, Uttar Pradesh, India for taking holy dip in the rivers and necessitates massive infrastructure arrangements.

Time series images (15 Sep 2023 & 29 Dec 2024) of EOS-04 (RISAT-1A) 'C' band microwave satellite, with its all-weather capability and fine resolution (FRS-1, 2.25m), provides unique insights on details of the Tent City (Layout of Structures and Roads) along with its network of pontoon bridges and supporting infrastructure, set up for the Maha Kumbh Mela 2025.
